SOLID FOR BRYAN

CONVENTION IS A UNIT FOR CANDIDACY OF THE GREAT COMMONER.

PRINCIPLES ARE SET FORTH

Bank Guaranty Law; Imprisonment of Offending Trust Officials; Income Tax Included in Resolutions.

Lauding William J. Bryan, and going on record favoring him for president, renewing their allegiance to Thomas Jefferson, indorsing the State administration from governor down, two solid type-written pages of resolutions were read at the democratic state convention by Chief Justice Robt. L. Williams and adopted by the convention.

The resolutions call attention to the enactment of the state banking law protecting depositors in the state and national banks; declared for the imprisonment of criminal officers of corporations instead of fining them; for publicity of the source of campaign funds; favored the placing of many imported goods on the free list; of levying an inheritance income tax; charging the republican party with being responsible for the speculation in Wall street and the "reckless, wanton and criminal gambling;" scoring the administration for pouring money out of the United States treasury into Wall street, and holding the national administration responsible for "the late and still impending financial panic." The Aldrich currency bill was also denounced.

Guaranty Bank Law.

While the burning of the new commonwealth a panic, in intensity, volume and danger unsurpassed in the history of the republic, being precipitated by republican policies, the democratic government, in said new government, met said conditions with marked statesmanship, and as a result enacted the depositors' guaranty law for state banks, and also of the national banks where they elected to avail themselves of its benefits.

Wall Street Gambling.

We denounce the republican party for having been dominated by the influence of the financiers of Wall street thereby becoming responsible for the exploitation of almost every avenue of capital, commerce and trade; for the reckless, wanton and criminal gambling that has left a trail of disastrous consequence, the history of which is written in deep disgrace. . . . for the administration sitting idly by during all these years without making any practical effort to curb such evils and even coming regularly to the rescue of Wall street banks by opening to them the vaults of the United States treasury when they had already drained the country of its circulating medium by reckless gambling in spurious stocks.

Aldrich Currency Bill.

We condemn the "Aldrich Currency" bill as vicious and a measure intended to benefit the few and to discriminate against the middle class and the commercial interests of our common country.

Income Tax.

We further favor the amendment of the constitution of the United States to the end that United States senators may be elected by direct vote of the people of the several states, and that an income and inheritance tax may be levied and collected by the federal government.

We recommend that the national organization of all political parties be required to publish the source of their campaign contributions from time to time during each campaign.

A Few Flowers.

Conscious of the fact that it was through the devotion, self-sacrifice, courage and patriotism of Oklahoma's valiant democratic sons that our people enter upon their God-given right of American citizenship and for the first time feeling the glad throbs of actual liberty, the democracy looks with affection into the eyes of Columbia's fair daughter as she takes her station in the councils of the national party and of the country, and with the conscious realization that she is the sceptered peer among the fair states of the nation, we turn with joy and pride to the lustrous folds of our beloved national emblem and behold with satisfaction and reverence in the glorious field of blue, the forty-sixth star, ensign of our equality among the states. In this spirit, looking only to our country's good, striving only for the upbuilding of the nation, and realizing the groping business of the present republican national administration, we offer to the country the principles of liberty embodied in the fundamental law of our state upon which to base measures of national relief, and of universal equity and justice.

COURT BILL TO EASE CONGESTION

Cases Now Pending Number 437, Including 368 Transferred with Statehood—Bar May Indorse.

Guthrie, Ok., Feb. 22.—The purpose of Representative Rainey of Atoka in providing for a court of criminal appeals, as carried in a bill offered by him a few days ago, is to relieve the congestion which, it is figured, will confront the supreme court for at least the next two years. Mr. Rainey shows that there were transferred to the supreme court from both territories on the day of statehood a total of 368 cases of all characters. Since statehood, sixty-six cases have been filed with the supreme court, and at the present there are pending 437 cases. It is understood, though, from an unofficial source that the bar of the state will indorse the measure.

The new court is to consist of three judges, to be appointed by the governor, and receive $3,000 per year salary, the same as now allowed District Judges of the state. The court shall exist until the first Monday of 1910 only, unless continued by the next legislature. The court is not to "migrate," as is the custom in Texas, but hold all of its sessions in Guthrie, or the seat of government.

New Court's Jurisdiction.

It is intended that the new court shall have exclusive appellate jurisdiction in all criminal cases of whatever grade, co-extensive with the state, except in cases where the construction of the constitution of the state, United States and acts of congress are involved, when a writ of error will lie to the supreme court of the state. Authority is conferred upon the supreme court to transfer to the court of criminal appeals all the criminal cases pending.

The new court's work is not to be confined to criminal business alone, but the supreme court may refer to it any civil cases for examination and report, which would work, the bill explains, to the relief of the present supreme court docket. One section of the bill provides that the court of criminal appeals shall render a decision in each case within three months from the date the case is submitted.

The bill follows somewhat the Texas law and appears to fully cover the subject as applied to the present situation in Oklahoma.

INSURANCE OF DEPOSITS DISCUSSED BY BANKERS

Expressions Against Oklahoma Statute Made at Pioneer Meeting Held at Lawton.

Lawton, Ok., Feb. 22.—The Pioneer Bankers' Association, group No. 1, of Oklahoma met here today about 100 strong. Many questions confronting the bankers were discussed, but the one given most attention was that of the deposit insurance feature of the Oklahoma banking act. As a rule, the state bank officers are pleased with the law.

The National bank men at this meeting are hostile against applying the deposit insurance law to their banks. They want it first tried on the state banks, believing it will not guarantee payment to depositors. They say that the state asks collateral from banks to guarantee their deposits, showing a doubt as to the faith of the legislators in the law. The principal talk made against the law was by Cashier Hoagland of the American National bank of Oklahoma City. This law is similar to one passed in New York in 1829 and repealed twelve years later. Other subjects discussed were exchange charges, usury, panic, state school money and how to get it, etc.

Cashier M. R. Sturtevant of the Central National bank of St. Louis, Cashier Domineck of the Traders' Bank of Kansas City and Frank W. Bryant, National bank examiner of Oklahoma

MANY SEEK LOANS ON FARMS. School Land Department Reports Over 1,300 Applications.

Guthrie, Ok., Feb. 22.—The farm loan division of the State School Land Department has received to date something over 1,300 applications for loans from the permanent school fund, Oklahoma farms being the securities. About forty loans have already been made, and there are pending to be approved for loans about 240, covering a total of $280,000. The board has made it a rule that titles to land must be certified to date by some bonded abstractor. Loans may be made for not exceeding five years, and the limit amount, under ordinary circumstances, is placed at $2,500. In case a greater amount is desired and is granted the time is reduced in proportion.

Oklahoma Insurance Matters.

Guthrie, Ok., Feb. 23.—According to T. J. McComb, insurance commissioner, there are about 135 fire insurance companies that have applied for permits to do business in Oklahoma since statehood. Life and other companies number about 75, making the grand total something over 210. Each company must pay $100 entrance fee and also a tax of two per cent on premiums. Commissioner McComb estimates that his office will receive in fees this year nearly $200,000. He is now compiling a report of all companies doing business and other data. This report will be ready about June 1st.

Commissioner McComb has employed P. L. Woolson of Denver, Colo., as a consulting actuary to check up the statements from the various companies licensed to do business in the state. This is made necessary by the taxation provisions of the Oklahoma constitution.

To the Democratic Delegation from Pontotoc County.

The man who could stand by and see the gallant work done on his behalf by so loyal supporters as the delegates from Pontotoc county in the state convention, and not pen his appreciation could only be an ingrate, a person void of all human feeling, so I take this means of expressing in a small degree the real appreciation I feel. The smart of defeat was healed by the realization that no man ever went down with more loyal supporters.

When I heard county after county casting their vote for me I could hardly realize the stupendous task the boys from Pontotoc had accomplished, against so great odds and I shall carry the memory of their loyalty until the power of recollection shall fail. The harmonious actions of Pontotoc's delegation is more pleasing to me than to have realized success with discension. TOM D. McKEOWN.

Why Are Scotchmen Red-haired?

Some wag has declared that it is the heat of Sandy's temper which imparts the red hue to his locks. This assertion, however, has been indignantly repudiated, and the explanation offered that the reason why there are something like 224,000 red-haired Scotsmen (or 5 per cent of the total population) in Caledonia today is simply because auburn hair is a racial feature, just as we find a predominance of blondes in Germany and Sweden and brunettes in Italy.

Scientists seem to give no lucid explanation of these peculiarities of national characteristics beyond connecting different colored hair with different colored skins. Whatever the real explanation might be, however, it would seem that the farther north one goes in Scotland, the more red-haired natives are to be found. North of the Grampians red-haired Scots are almost as numerous as the petals on the heather, while, alas and alack! there is a distinct excess of red-haired inmates in the lunatic asylums of the northeast of Scotland.

Not that it is suggested for one moment that auburn locks are a sign of insanity. But, patriotic Scotsman though he is, J. F. Tocher, of Paterhead, in his address on "Colored Characters," at the recent annual congress of the education institute of Scotland, was obliged to point out this melancholy fact.—London Tid-Bits.

PONTOTOC INDIANS.

The county delegation to state convention returned home Sunday afternoon tired and sleepy but good natured. Pontotoc's vote on practically every proposition was sustained by convention. Our slate for delegates at large and alternates at large was successful by good majorities, excepting one instance in each slate. This county led the contest from the east side in behalf of George Whitehurst for presidential elector at large and Morton Rutherford, who was a candidate from the East side for elector at large likewise received our solid support. Pontotoc voted with the majority in the only two contests of any factional nature, sustaining Haskell's contention against Murray that eight delegates at large instead of four should be selected to national convention, and voting to sustain the report of the credential committee seating the Bellamy delegation of Canadian county which Mr. Murray opposed on the floor of the convention. The editor of the News personally sympathized with Mr. Murray's contention in both instances and would have been pleased had the convention sustained them, but of course accepted the verdict of the majority of the home delegation always and voted that way.

HEAD OF KEEP COMMISSION

Copyright by Waldon Fawcett.

Charles Hallam Keep, formerly assistant secretary of the treasury, is chairman of the commission appointed by the president to reorganize the old-time methods in use in practically all of the government departments. Much of the red-tape has been abolished by the body and the government service generally revolutionized. Before entering the government service, Mr. Keep was a Buffalo lawyer.

BOAT AND BALLOON.

BROOKLYNITE INVENTS MACHINE TO CONQUER AIR AND SEA.

Vessel Built with Wings Like a Bird and Can Keep on Water for Days at a Time—Craft Patented in Six Countries.

Brooklyn.—A combination boat and balloon—a thing that shall sail on the water and then, by letting go a little ballast, rise like a bird to any height from which to drop lyddite shells on vessels of an enemy's fleet, a nautical freak, both fish and bird—is what A. Perry Bliven of Brooklyn claims to have invented. He declares he has patented his invention in six countries, and says that if it were not mechanically perfect patents would not have been granted by so many governments.

Mr. Bliven has been a working inventor for 40 years. He is considered an expert on boiler and marine engineering. He is also a yacht designer, and professes to have sold two steamship patents for $200,000 each.

Mr. Bliven says that he has refused an offer of $750,000 for the airship patent and that negotiations are now pending between the syndicate of owners and European capitalists for the sale of the foreign patents for $1,750,000, or a pro rata value for each country, while the North American patents are being put into a trust, at a valuation of $500,000.

The ship consists of a huge egg shaped silk bag, containing hydrogen gas, encased in an aluminum cover. This rests on a small hull, shaped like a boat, though with twice the amount of beam generally allowed a boat.

Propellers on the side of the hydrogen bag and a propeller at the stern of the hull drive the bird-boat forward. Illuminating gas is used for fuel, and the propellers are reversible, so that the boat can be turned quickly.

As all the weight of the craft is in the hull and the lifting power is aloft, the airship should keep right side up when in flight. Also the side propellers have a stow-away effect—based on the mechanical principle of the gyro wheel.

The boat can be made to rise by letting out water ballast, for hull and bag weigh less than the air displaced. The ship can be brought back to the water by letting out some of the hydrogen gas in the bag.

The upper part or egg shaped aluminum balloon, according to the details of construction, contains hydrogen gas of a lifting power 15 per cent. greater than is required to raise the weight of the boat. The balloon is put into the aluminum frame through manholes while in a state of collapse. When the gas has been pumped in the apertures the aluminum covers are sealed so that no gas can escape.

Below the aluminum body is the hull which contains a cabin, engine-room, two apartments for kerosene, two for water ballast, and 30,000 cubic feet of illuminating gas. As this illuminating gas also has great lifting power, the work of the hydrogen bag is made easier. In order not to make the boat too light, the water ballast is carried in sufficient quantity to offset the lifting power of the illuminating gas. As the gas is used up, the water ballast is allowed to run out.

The kerosene is kept on hand in order that fuel will be ready should the illuminating gas escape. The hull of the boat is made watertight and seaworthy, its supporting power being five times the weight of the bag, cabin, engines, ballast, and other parts.

Directly over the side propellers and attached to the aluminum egg, are wide wings, sloping as those of a bird. This, the inventor contends, if the hydrogen gas should escape, would serve as a parachute, and prevent the boat from falling with dangerous velocity.

The inventor claims the following special advantages for the Bliven airship:

It can be driven over the surface of the water for days at a time, and then be made to rise by letting out the water ballast.

The form of the ship is such that it can be driven through the air with the maximum amount of speed attainable by its engines.

By the arrangement of its screws it can be handled in air as readily as a modern steam yacht on the water.

It can take flights of many days, owing to its space for crew, provisions, etc.

It can be constructed in any size up to 600 feet in length, having a carrying capacity ranging from 500 to 100,000 pounds, independent of its weight, which means that its passenger capacity may be from three to 300 men.

As an engine of war it would be terribly effective, and for meteorological and geographical observations it would be invaluable.

The inventor has proved all his ideas, he says, on a model airship five feet long. He has obtained patents in the United States, Canada, Great Britain, France, and Italy, so far, and he has made requisitions for patents in other lands.

IDEA FOR SUPPER DISH.

Returned Traveler Tells How to Prepare Cuban Delicacy.

Charles J. Post, the illustrator, who has just returned from Cuba, is making all his friends happy by telling them how to prepare a new and most delectable supper dish, says the New York Times. This is the "Huevos Malagueña," which has long been one of the favorite viands served at the best Havana restaurants.

While it is possible to prepare this dish in the chafing dish, the Cuban method of cooking it is to make it directly over the fire in a porcelain lined stew pan. Into this the cook pours some good olive oil—not a teaspoonful or two, or enough to just grease the bottom of the pan, but a goodly quantity, that the oil may bubble conspicuously when sufficiently heated. When this result has been attained, drop some eggs gently into the hot oil; follow quickly with shrimp, French peas and capers, and let the mixture remain over the fire just long enough to enable the eggs to poach to the extent desired. Then, season to taste with salt, white pepper, and paprika.

As this combination of egg, fish and vegetable should appear at the table in the same utensil in which it is cooked, it may be made still more attractive by being prepared in individual dishes—one or two eggs and a corresponding quantity of shrimp, peas and capers being apportioned to each dish. But however it may be made, one thing at least is certain. It may be depended upon to play the role of a captivating surprise at whatever hour of the day or evening you may invite your guests to partake of it.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

When mixing mustard add a drop or two of salad oil to it. It will greatly improve the flavor.

A tablespoonful of borax is an agreeable addition to the dishwasher and helps to keep the hands soft, instead of irritating them, as soda does.

To keep lemons as well as to improve their flavor, put them into more than enough water to cover them and change it every day or two.

A pan of borax and sugar kept under the sink will discourage roaches.

Plenty of hot water and washing soda put down the sink pipes will keep them clear and lessen the plumber's bill.

If tea or coffee be spilled on a woolen material it may be removed by applying glycerin to the spot, afterward washing out the glycerin with water.

Discolored ivory knife handles should be cleaned with lemon juice and salt. Cut a lemon in half, dip it in salt and with it rub the ivory. Wash off immediately with warm water and wipe dry.

Fish Timbale.

Pour one-half of a cupful of cream into a saucepan with two tablespoonfuls of fine state bread crumbs; add salt, cayenne, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, one teaspoonful of minced parsley and a few drops of onion juice; when hot, add one cupful of cold boiled or canned salmon, or any dry white fish, mashed very fine; when boiling, pour over it the well beaten yolks of three eggs, mixing well; fold the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs; fill well greased timbale cups two-thirds full; set the cups in a pan of hot water and bake until firm. Serve with Hollandaise sauce made as follows:

Heat four tablespoonfuls of vinegar to the boiling point and pour on two well beaten eggs, or four yolks, stirring well; return this mixture to the fire and stir constantly until it thickens, but remove from the fire immediately when it is the consistency of soft custard; add two tablespoonfuls of butter, salt and cayenne to taste.

New Boiling.

Here is a new cookery kink. It is "boiling" eggs without water. This novelty is exploited at one of Chicago's leading hotels, and as the feat is accomplished directly before the eyes of the guest, the new way of cooking generally attracts attention and comment. The waiter places a box-like apparatus before the guest and turns on a little electricity from the bracket on the wall and places the desired number of eggs in the heater. In about a minute and a half, or half the time consumed by the hot water process, the eggs are cooked to a turn. The process is an idea originated by Prof. Radtke of Armour Institute.

Cleaning Bottles.

Most medicine bottles can be cleaned by washing thoroughly in hot soap suds and rinsing in cold water; but there may be some that will require different treatment.

Some druggists clean narrow-necked bottles by putting in bits of blotting paper torn into a pulp, shaking well, emptying, then rinsing. This will make them very clean.

Frequently bottles will be musty when standing any length of time, and in this case if they are filled with cold water and allowed to stand an hour or two the musty smell will disappear.

Delicious Potatoes.

Select potatoes of medium and uniform size. Wash very clean with a brush and drop into a kettle of boiling water to which has been added a little salt and a pinch of soda. Boil about five minutes until hot to the center, take out of water and put in a hot oven, baking until slightly brown. You will say you never knew what potatoes were before, if you time them right.

NEARING THE AGE LIMIT.

NAVAL OFFICERS WHO WILL RETIRE THIS YEAR.

"Fighting Bob" Evans Among Those to Leave Uncle Sam's Service Before 1909—Twenty-Four in All to Go.

Washington.—There will be a record-breaking number of retirements of well-known naval officers this year. "Fighting Bob" Evans, Commander-in-chief of the fleet now on the way to the Pacific, will be 62 years old on August 18 and will go on the retired list that day. In all 24 distinguished commissioned officers will be cut down by the official Father Time in 1908, and their withdrawal from active service will promote many officers by virtue of the seniority rule.

Among those who are to be retired is Capt. John Elliott Pillsbury, who has just assumed charge of the bureau of navigation as a result of Rear Admiral Brownson resigning the billet because he refused to agree with President Roosevelt and Surgeon General Rixey that a doctor is the proper person to command a hospital ship. Capt. Pillsbury, who as chief of the bureau of navigation has the rank of rear admiral, is to leave the service December 15 under the 62-year limit regulation.

Another officer who will suffer of official decapitation because of the rule is William Sheffield Cowes, brother-in-law of President Roosevelt. Capt. Cowes is to go out August 1. Henry Buckingham Mansfield, who made the famous trip in the schooner yacht America in search of confederate pirates in 1863 and who commanded a launch from the frigate Mohican in the expedition which "cut out" and turned the piratical steamer Forward in Tecupan river, Mexico, will be retired March 5.

William Hemsley Emory, who is to retire two days after Capt. Pillsbury, was commander of the Bear in the Greeley relief expedition in 1884.

Samuel Williams Very, whose time will be up April 23, is the only one of those slated for retirement this year who was born in a foreign country. He was born in England April 23, 1846.

Capt. George Augustus Bicknell, who is to retire May 15, has seen more service on the firing line than the majority of the others who are to retire with him.

John Mitchell Hawley, who is to retire July 28, received a vote of thanks from the Massachusetts legislature for "rare courage and ability" displayed during the Samoan hurricane in March, 1899. He also was commended to the navy department by Rear Admiral Kimberly for zeal and energy in getting the warship Nipsic afloat after that vessel was beached in the hurricane.

Franklin J. Drake is to retire March 4. He commanded company B in the assault by land forces on the Korean forts at Seoul in 1871.

Richardson Clover, who made the trip around the world with the late Gen. Grant, is to retire July 11.

Other well-known officers who are to be retired from service within the year are: W. S. Moore, February 23; C. A. Adams, May 28; W. T. Burwell, July 19; A. B. Speyers, August 15; J. P. Merrell, September 7; C. M. Thomas, October 1; J. H. Dayton, October 25; A. R. Couden, October 30; J. St. C. Ogden, December 10, and C. T. Forse, December 29.

Log Wrecks Miner's Home.

Spokane, Wash.—John Bernard, master mechanic of the Success mine, and his family escaped death by a narrow margin the other day when a log 75 feet long and 18 inches thick plowed through the family home near Wallace, Idaho, and after doing so buried ten feet of its length in the ground beyond.

Bernard's house is at the base of a mountain. The log got away, presumably, from cutters, and shot down the mountain side nearly half a mile. It struck the rear end of the house and tore a hole from end to end.

The family, consisting of Bernard, his wife, and three children, were in the kitchen, and, though the log passed between them, all escaped with a few minor bruises.

BUCHANAN HAD A ROMANCE.

Love Story of Former President Herebefore Unpublished.

Lancaster, Pa.—In a paper read before the Lancaster County Historical society, Mrs. James D. Landis brought to light a hitherto unpublished story of a love affair of President James Buchanan, which, it is said, led Pennsylvania's only president to lead the life of a bachelor until his death.

The incident which led to the breaking of Buchanan's engagement with his fiancée occurred in this city. The future president, a young lawyer at the time, was associated with William Jenkins of this city in a case being argued before the supreme court in Philadelphia, and Mr. Buchanan had gone to Philadelphia in the interest of the case. On his return he stopped at the home of Mr. Jenkins to acquaint him with the details of the argument.

Miss Grace P. Hubley, so the story runs, a sister-in-law of Jenkins, hearing Mr. Buchanan speaking, came downstairs to greet him. The young lawyer then took his departure. Miss Hubley later wrote a note to Miss Ann Coleman, Mr. Buchanan's fiancée, telling her jokingly that she had a call from him, and that they had had a pleasant afternoon together.

This so angered Miss Coleman, it is said, that, without waiting for an explanation from Mr. Buchanan, she broke the engagement. A short time later Miss Coleman made a hurried trip to Philadelphia, where she died very suddenly, reports at the time saying that her death was due to suicide, caused by remorse. Miss Coleman's body was brought to Lancaster and it lies in St. James' churchyard.

COWBOY TO RICHES

ED. L. DOHENEY OF TEXAS HAS MADE RAPID ADVANCE.

Plainsman Accumulates Millions by Ventures in Oil in State of California and in the Republic of Mexico.

Denison, Tex.—Thirty-five years ago Ed. L. Dohoney rode out of Texas on the back of a paint pony, driving a herd of cattle toward Wichita, Kan. He was employed by the firm of Lee & Reynolds, then the great traders of Indian territory. His fortune was represented in his six shooter and his boots.

The other day, after a trip back to the old state he knew as a cowboy, Dohoney again departed from Texas, this time in a special car of which he is the owner.

Times have changed for Dohoney. Salted away in California banks he has a dozen millions or so, and planted in Mexico he has the monopoly of the oil production which is netting him millions more.

While in the state on his last trip he visited Columbia and the oil district being developed by Capt. Lee, son of his former employer, associated with W. C. Hoggard and others. It is on the banks of the Brazos river, from where Dohoney formerly drove the long horns to Wichita.

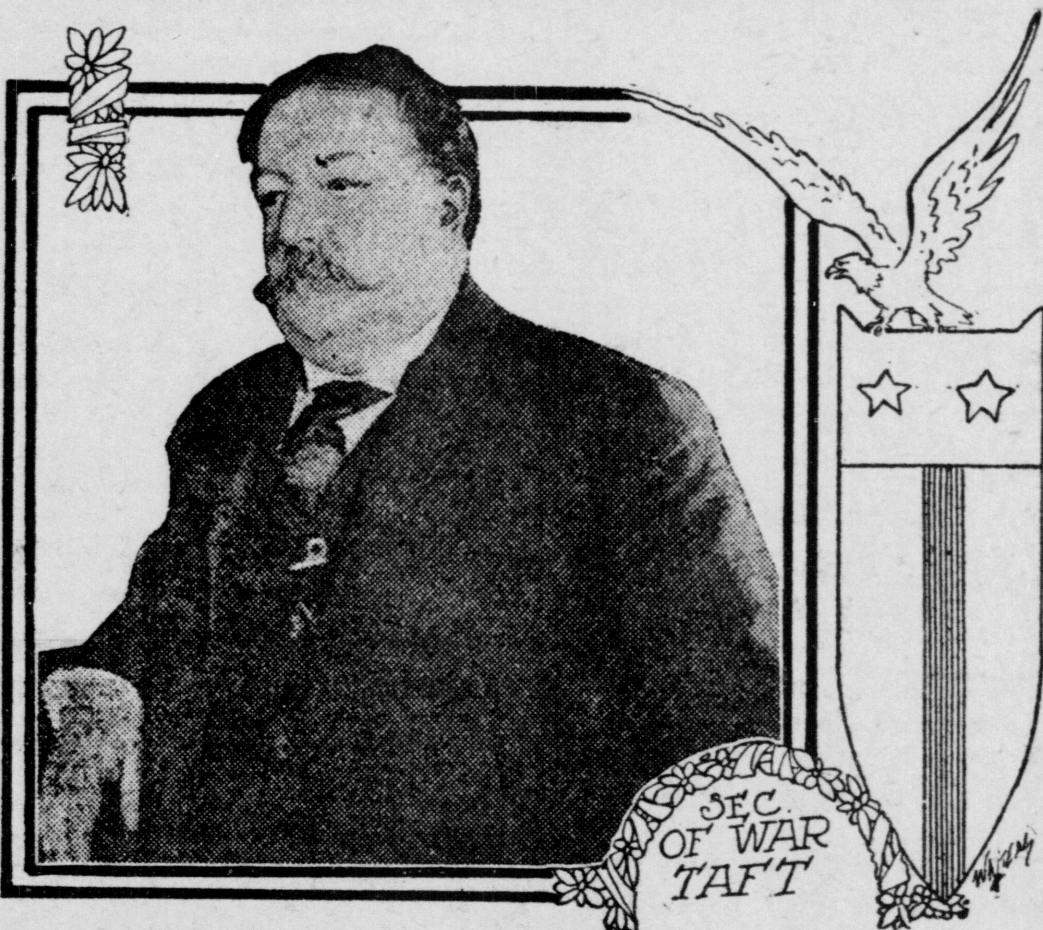

The 35 years that have intervened between the wild life of a cow puncher and the wild life of high finance were those of experience. A year before Dohoney came to be a millionaire he was riding around Los Angeles on the high seat of an oil wagon, guiding a team and measuring gasoline to customers.

Afterward he steered a drill into the oil sand and made the stake upon which he started. Then he turned the screws of a contract into the Santa Fe Railroad Company and made a fortune. At the same time he made things so interesting for President Ripley that the two became business associates.

Mr. Dohoney did not say whether he expected to invest in the Columbia oil field, but the association of his trip there caused a number of others to invest. He said he did not want his name to influence anyone to make an investment.

"They seem to have found some oil down there," he said. "What they

SOLID FOR BRYAN

CONVENTION IS A UNIT FOR CANDIDACY OF THE GREAT COMMONER.

PRINCIPLES ARE SET FORTH

Bank Guaranty Law; Imprisonment of Offending Trust Officials; Income Tax Included in Resolutions.

Lauding William J. Bryan, and going on record favoring him for president, renewing their allegiance to Thomas Jefferson, endorsing the State administration from governor down, two solid type-written pages of resolutions were read at the democratic state convention by Chief Justice Robt. L. Williams and adopted by the convention.

The resolutions call attention to the enactment of the state banking law protecting depositors in the state and national banks; declared for the imprisonment of criminal officers of corporations instead of fining them; for publicity of the source of campaign funds; favored the placing of many imported goods on the free list; of levying an inheritance income tax, charging the republican party with being responsible for the speculation in Wall street and the "reckless, wanton and criminal gambling," scoring the administration for pouring money out of the United States treasury into Wall street, and holding the national administration responsible for "the late and still impending financial panic." The Aldrich currency bill was also denounced.

Guaranty Bank Law.

While the bombing of the new commonwealth a panic, in intensity, volume and danger unsurpassed in the history of the republic, being precipitated by republican policies, the democratic government, in said new government, met said conditions with marked statesmanship, and as a result enacted the depositors' guaranty law for state banks, and also of the national banks where they elected to avail themselves of its benefits.

Wall Street Gambling.

We denounce the republican party for having been dominated by the influence of the financiers of Wall street thereby becoming responsible for the exploitation of almost every avenue of capital, commerce and trade; for the reckless, wanton and criminal gambling that has left a trail of disastrous consequence, the history of which is written in deep disgrace. . . . for the administration sitting idly by during all these years without making any practical effort to curb such evils and even coming regularly to the rescue of Wall street banks by opening to them the vaults of the United States treasury when they had already drained the country of its circulating medium by reckless gambling in spurious stocks.

Aldrich Currency Bill.

We condemn the "Aldrich Currency" bill as vicious and a measure intended to benefit the few and to discriminate against the middle class and the commercial interests of our common country.

Income Tax.

We further favor the amendment of the constitution of the United States to the end that United States senators may be elected by direct vote of the people of the several states, and that an income and inheritance tax may be levied and collected by the federal government.

We recommend that the national organization of all political parties be required to publish the source of their campaign contributions from time to time during each campaign.

A Few Facts.

Conscious of the fact that it was through the devotion, self-sacrifice, courage and patriotism of Oklahoma's valiant democratic sons that our people enter upon their God-given right of American citizenship and for the first time feeling the glad throbs of actual liberty, the democracy looks with affection into the eyes of Columbia's fair daughter as she takes her station in the councils of the national party and of the country, and with the conscious realization that she is the sceptered peer among the fair states of the nation, we turn with joy and pride to the lustrous folds of our beloved national emblem and behold with satisfaction and reverence in the glorious field of blue, the forty-sixth star, ensign of our equality among the states. In this spirit, looking only to our country's good, striving only for the upbuilding of the nation, and realizing the groping business of the present republican national administration, we offer to the country the principles of liberty embodied in the fundamental law of our state upon which to base measures of national relief, and of universal equity and justice.

COURT BILL TO EASE CONGESTION

Cases Now Pending Number 437, Including 368 Transferred with Statehood—Bar May Indorse.

Guthrie, Ok., Feb. 22.—The purpose of Representative Rainey of Atoka in providing for a court of criminal appeals, as carried in a bill offered by him a few days ago, is to relieve the congestion which, it is figured, will confront the supreme court for at least the next two years. Mr. Rainey shows that there were transferred to the supreme court from both territories on the day of statehood a total of 368 cases of all characters. Since statehood, sixty-six cases have been filed with the supreme court, and at the present there are pending 437 cases. It is understood, though, from an unofficial source that the bar of the state will indorse the measure.

The new court is to consist of three judges, to be appointed by the governor, and receive $3,000 per year salary, the same as now allowed District Judges of the state. The court shall exist until the first Monday of 1910 only, unless continued by the next legislature. The court is not to "migrate," as is the custom in Texas, but hold all of its sessions in Guthrie, at the seat of government.

New Court's Jurisdiction.

It is intended that the new court shall have exclusive appellate jurisdiction in all criminal cases of whatever grade, co-extensive with the state, except in cases where the construction of the constitution of the state, United States and acts of congress are involved, when a writ of error will lie to the supreme court of the state. Authority is conferred upon the supreme court to transfer to the court of criminal appeals all the criminal cases pending.

The new court's work is not to be confined to criminal business alone, but the supreme court may refer to it any civil cases for examination and report, which would work, the bill explains, to the relief of the present supreme court docket. One section of the bill provides that the court of criminal appeals shall render a decision in each case within three months from the date the case is submitted.

The bill follows somewhat the Texas law and appears to fully cover the subject as applied to the present situation in Oklahoma.

INSURANCE OF DEPOSITS
DISCUSSED BY BANKERS

Expressions Against Oklahoma Statute Made at Pioneer Meeting Held at Lawton.

Lawton, Ok., Feb. 22.—The Pioneer Bankers' Association, group No. 1, of Oklahoma met here today about 100 strong. Many questions confronting the bankers were discussed, but the one given most attention was that of the deposit insurance feature of the Oklahoma banking act. As a rule, the state bank officers are pleased with the law.

The National bank men at this meeting are hostile against applying the deposit insurance law to their banks. They want it first tried on the state banks, believing it will not guarantee payment to depositors. They say that the state asks collateral from banks to guarantee their depositors, showing a doubt as to the faith of the legislators in the law. The principal talk made against the law was by Cashier Hoagland of the American National bank of Oklahoma City. This law is similar to one passed in New York in 1829 and repealed twelve years later. Other subjects discussed were exchange charges, usury, panic, state school money and how to get it, etc.

MANY SEEK LOANS ON FARMS. School Land Department Reports Over 1,300 Applications.

Guthrie, Ok., Feb. 22.—The farm loan division of the State School Land Department has received to date something over 1,300 applications for loans from the permanent school fund. Oklahoma farms being the scarcest. About forty loans have already been made, and there are pending to be approved for loans about 240, covering a total of $280,000. The board has made it a rule that titles to land must be verified so date by some bonded abstractor. Loans may be made for not exceeding five years, and the limit amount, under ordinary circumstances, is placed at $2,500. In case a greater amount is desired and is granted the time is reduced in proportion.

Oklahoma Insurance Matters.

Guthrie, Ok., Feb. 23.—According to C. J. McComb, insurance commissioner, there are about 135 fire insurance companies that have applied for permits to do business in Oklahoma since statehood. Life and other companies number about 75, making the grand total something over 210. Each company must pay $100 entrance fee and also a tax of two per cent on premiums. Commissioner McComb estimates that his office will receive in fees this year nearly $200,000. He is now compiling a report of all companies doing business and other data. This report will be ready about June 1st.

Commissioner McComb has employed P. L. Woolson of Denver, Colo., as a consulting actuary to check up the statements from the various companies licensed to do business in the State. This is made necessary by the taxation provisions of the Oklahoma constitution.

To the Democratic Delegation from Pontotoc County.

The man who could stand by and see the gallant work done on his behalf by so loyal supporters as the delegates from Pontotoc county in the state convention, and not pen his appreciation could only be an ingrate, a person void of all human feeling, so I take this means of expressing in a small degree the real appreciation I feel. The smart of defeat was headed by the realization that no man ever went down with more loyal supporters.

When I heard county after county casting their vote for me I could hardly realize the stupendous task the boys from Pontotoc had accomplished, against so great odds and I shall carry the memory of their loyalty until the power of recollection shall fail.

The harmonious actions of Pontotoc's delegation is more pleasing to me than to have realized success with discension. TOM D. McKEOWN

Why Are Scotchmen Red-haired?

Some wag has declared that it is the heat of Sandy's temper which imparts the red hue to his locks. This assertion, however, has been indignantly repudiated, and the explanation offered that the reason why there are something like 224,000 red-haired Scotsmen (or 5 per cent of the total population) in Caledonia today is simply because auburn hair is a racial feature, just as we find a predominance of blondes in Germany and Sweden and brunettes in Italy.

Scientists seem to give no lucid explanation of these peculiarities of national characteristics beyond connecting different colored hair with different colored skins. Whatever the real explanation might be, however, it would seem that the farther north one goes in Scotland, the more red-haired natives are to be found. North of the Grampians red-haired Scots are almost as numerous as the petals on the heather, while, alas and alack! there is a distinct excess of red-haired inmates in the lunatic asylums of the northeast of Scotland.

Not that it is suggested for one moment that auburn locks are a sign of insanity. But, patriotic Scotsman though he is, J. F. Tocher, of Peterhead, in his address on "Colored Characters," at the recent annual congress of the education institute of Scotland, was obliged to point out this melancholy fact.—London Tid-Bits.

The public building committee of the legislature has at last been appointed.

I wish that I might talk with all sick ones about the actual cause of Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. To explain in person how weak stomach nerves leads to Stomach weakness, I am sure would interest all. And it is the same with weak Hearts or weak Kidneys. This is why my prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—so promptly reaches ailments of the Stomach, Heart and Kidney. It is wrong to drag the Stomach or stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. These weak inside nerves simply need more strength. My restorative is the only prescription made expressly for these nerves. Next to seeing you personally will be to mail you free, my new book let entitled "What To Do." I will also send samples of my Restorative as well. Write for the book today. It will surely interest you. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 8, Racine, Wis. Sold by G. M. Ramsey.

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Gripes with "Preventics" means sure defense for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is easier than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. So be early. Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the same stage—they break, or head of these early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics.

Preventics is Little Candy Cold Cure. No Gripe, no sore, nothing alarming. Fine for the children—any thorough sale too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual doctor's bill. There is a very pleasant, night-day, head-sore, body-ache, Preventics' greatest efficiency. Sold in boxes for the pocket, also in the home of a Prevention. Insist on your druggist giving you

PONTOTOC INDIANS.

The county delegation to state convention returned home Sunday afternoon tired and sleepy but good natured. Pontotoc's vote on practically every proposition was sustained by convention. Our slate for delegates at large and alternates at large was successful by good majorities excepting one instance in each slate. This county led the contest from the east side in behalf of George Whitehurst for presidential elector at large and Morton Rutherford, who was a candidate from the East side for elector at large likewise received our solid support. Pontotoc voted with the majority in the only two contests of any factional nature, sustaining Haskell's contention against Murray that eight delegates at large instead of four should be selected to national convention, and voting to sustain the report of the credential committee seating the Bellamy delegation of Canadian county which Mr. Murray opposed on the floor of the convention. The editor of the News personally sympathized with Mr. Murray's contention in both instances and would have been pleased had the convention sustained them, but of course accepted the verdict of the majority of the home delegation always and voted that way.

He Found a Quiet Place.

A nervous looking man went into a store the other day and sat down for a half hour or so, when a clerk asked him if there was anything he could do for him. He said no he didn't want anything. She went away and he sat hour longer when the proprietor went to him and asked if he wanted to be shown anything. "No," said the nervous man, "I just wanted to sit around. My physician has recommended quiet for me, and says above all things I should avoid being in a crowd. Noticing that you did not advertise in the newspaper, I thought this would be as quiet a place as I could find, so I just dropped in for a few hours of isolation."

PONTOTOC INDIANS.

The county delegation to state convention returned home Sunday afternoon tired and sleepy but good natured. Pontotoc's vote on practically every proposition was sustained by convention. Our slate for delegates at large and alternates at large was successful by good majorities excepting one instance in each slate. This county led the contest from the east side in behalf of George Whitehurst for presidential elector at large and Morton Rutherford, who was a candidate from the East side for elector at large likewise received our solid support. Pontotoc voted with the majority in the only two contests of any factional nature, sustaining Haskell's contention against Murray that (large) delegates at large instead of four should be selected to national convention, and voting to sustain the report of the credential committee seating the Beilamy delegation of Canadian county which Mr. Murray opposed on the floor of the convention. The editor of the News personally sympathized with Mr. Murray's contention in both instances and would have been pleased had the convention sustained them, but of course accepted the verdict of the majority of the home delegation always and voted that way.

County Commissioners in Session Ask Loan of State.

The county commissioners are in session today. Their main object is to divide the county into stock districts which will be the same as the justice precincts.

They voted to apply for a loan of $40,000 from the state for the purpose of putting the county on a cash basis. The chances are good to procure this amount, as other counties are meeting with favorable consideration in this respect.

BOAT AND BALLOON.

BROOKLYNITE INVENTS MACHINE TO CONQUER AIR AND SEA.

Vessel Built with Wings Like a Bird and Can Keep on Water for Days at a Time—Craft Patented in Six Countries.

Brooklyn.—A combination boat and balloon—a thing that shall sail on the water and then, by letting go a little ballast, rise like a bird to any height from which to drop lyddite shells on vessels of an enemy's fleet, a nautical freak, both fish and bird—is what A. Perry Bliven of Brooklyn claims to have invented. He declares he has patented his invention in six countries, and says that if it were not mechanically perfect patents would not have been granted by so many governments.

Mr. Bliven has been a working inventor for 40 years. He is considered an expert on boiler and marine engineering. He is also a yacht designer.

er, and professes to have sold two steamship patents for $200,000 each. Mr. Bliven says that he has refused an offer of $750,000 for the airship patent and that negotiations are now pending between the syndicate of owners and European capitalists for the sale of the foreign patents for $1,750,000, or a pro rata value for each country, while the North American patents are being put into a trust, at a valuation of $500,000.

The ship consists of a huge egg shaped silk bag, containing hydrogen gas, encased in an aluminum cover. This rests on a small hull, shaped like a boat, though with twice the amount of beam generally allowed a boat.

Propellers on the side of the hydrogen bag and a propeller at the stern of the hull drive the bird-boat forward. Illuminating gas is used for fuel, and the propellers are reversible, so that the boat can be turned quickly.

As all the weight of the craft is in the hull and the lifting power is aloft, the airship should keep right side up when in flight. Also the side propellers have a striding effect—based on the mechanical principle of the gyro wheel.

The boat can be made to rise by letting out water ballast, for hull and bag weigh less than the air displaced. The ship can be brought back to the water by letting out some of the hydrogen gas in the bag.

The upper part or egg shaped aluminum balloon, according to the details of construction, contains hydrogen gas of a lifting power 15 per cent. greater than is required to raise the weight of the boat. The balloon is put into the aluminum frame through manholes while in a state of collapse. When the gas has been pumped in the apertures the aluminum covers are sealed so that no gas can escape.

Below the aluminum body is the hull which contains a cabin, engine-room, two apartments for kerosene, two for water ballast, and 30,000 cubic feet of illuminating gas. As this illuminating gas also has great lifting power, the work of the hydrogen bag is made easier. In order not to make the boat too light, the water ballast is carried in sufficient quantity to offset the lifting power of the illuminating gas. As the gas is used up, the water ballast is allowed to run out.

The kerosene is kept on hand in order that fuel will be ready should the illuminating gas escape. The hull of the boat is made watertight and seaworthy, its supporting power being five times the weight of the bag, cabin, engines, ballast, and other parts.

Directly over the side propellers and attached to the aluminum egg, are wide wings, sloping as those of a bird. This, the inventor contends, if the hydrogen gas should escape, would serve as a parachute, and prevent the boat from falling with dangerous velocity.

The inventor claims the following special advantages for the Bliven airship:

It can be driven over the surface of the water for days at a time, and then be made to rise by letting out the water ballast.

The form of the ship is such that it can be driven through the air with the maximum amount of speed attainable by its engines.

By the arrangement of its screws it can be handled in air as readily as a modern steam yacht on the water.

It can take flights of many days, owing to its space for crew, provisions, etc.

It can be constructed in any size up to 600 feet in length, having a carrying capacity ranging from 500 to 100,000 pounds, independent of its weight, which means that its passenger capacity may be from three to 300 men.

As an engine of war it would be terribly effective, and for meteorological and geographical observations it would be invaluable.

The inventor has proved all his ideas, he says, on a model airship five feet long. He has obtained patents in the United States, Canada, Great Britain, France, and Italy, so far, and he has made requisitions for patents in other lands.

IDEA FOR SUPPER DISH.

Charles J. Post, the illustrator, who has just returned from Cuba, is making all his friends happy by telling them how to prepare a new and most delectable supper dish, says the New York Times. This is the "Huevos Malagueña," which has long been one of the favorite viands served at the best Havana restaurants.

While it is possible to prepare this dish in the chafing dish, the Cuban method of cooking it is to make it directly over the fire in a porcelain lined stew pan. Into this the cook pours some good olive oil—not a teaspoonful or two, or enough to just grease the bottom of the pan, but a goodly quantity, that the oil may bubble conspicuously when sufficiently heated. When this result has been attained, drop some eggs gently into the hot oil; follow quickly with shrimp, French peas and capers, and let the mixture remain over the fire just long enough to enable the eggs to poach to the extent desired. Then, season to taste with salt, white pepper, and paprika.

As this combination of egg, fish and vegetable should appear at the table in the same utensil in which it is cooked, it may be made still more attractive by being prepared in individual dishes—one or two eggs and a corresponding quantity of shrimp, peas and capers being apportioned to each dish. But however it may be made, one thing at least is certain. It may be depended upon to play the role of a captivating surprise at whatever hour of the day or evening you may invite your guests to partake of it.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

When mixing mustard add a drop or two of salad oil to it. It will greatly improve the flavor.

A tablespoonful of borax is an agreeable addition to the dishwasher and helps to keep the hands soft. Instead of irritating them, as soda does.

To keep lemons as well as to improve their flavor, put them into more than enough water to cover them and change it every day or two.

A pan of borax and sugar kept under the sink will discourage roaches.

Plenty of hot water and washing soda put down the sink pipes will keep them clear and lessen the plumber's bill.

If tea or coffee be spilled on a woolen material it may be removed by applying glycerin to the spot, afterward washing out the glycerin with water.

Discolored ivory knife handles should be cleaned with lemon juice and salt. Cut a lemon in half, dip it in salt and with it rub the ivory. Wash off immediately with warm water and wipe dry.

Fish Timbale.

Pour one-half of a cupful of cream into a saucepan with two tablespoonfuls of fine stale bread crumbs; add salt, cayenne, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, one teaspoonful of minced parsley and a few drops of onion juice; when hot, add one cupful of cold boiled or canned salmon, or any dry white fish, mashed very fine; when boiling, pour over it the well beaten yolks of three eggs, mixing well; fold the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs; fill well greased timbale cups two-thirds full; set the cups in a pan of hot water and bake until firm. Serve with Hollandaise sauce made as follows:

Heat four tablespoonfuls of vinegar to the boiling point and pour on two well beaten eggs, or four yolks, stirring well; return this mixture to the fire and stir constantly until it thickens, but remove from the fire immediately when it is the consistency of soft custard; add two tablespoonfuls of butter, salt and cayenne to taste.

New Boiling.

Here is a new cookery kink. It is "boiling" eggs without water. This novelty is exploited at one of Chicago's leading hotels, and as the feat is accomplished directly before the eyes of the guest, the new way of cooking generally attracts attention and comment. The waiter places a box-like apparatus before the guest and turns on a little electricity from the bracket on the wall and places the desired number of eggs in the heater. In about a minute and a half, or half the time consumed by the hot water process, the eggs are cooked to a turn. The process is an idea originated by Prof. Radtke of Armour Institute.

Cleaning Bottles.

Most medicine bottles can be cleaned by washing thoroughly in hot soap suds and rinsing in cold water; but there may be some that will require different treatment.

Some druggists clean narrow-necked bottles by putting in bits of blotting paper torn into a pulp, shaking well, emptying, then rinsing. This will make them very clean.

Frequently bottles will be musty when standing any length of time, and in this case if they are filled with cold water and allowed to stand an hour or two the musty smell will disappear.

Delicious Potatoes.

Select potatoes of medium and uniform size. Wash very clean with a brush and drop into a kettle of boiling water to which has been added a little salt and a pinch of soda. Boil about five minutes until hot to the center, take out of water and put in a hot oven, baking until slightly brown. You will say you never knew what potatoes were before, if you time them right.

COWBOY TO RICHES

ED. L. DOHENEY OF TEXAS HAS MADE RAPID ADVANCE.

Plainsman Accumulates Millions by Ventures in Oil in State of California and in the Republic of Mexico.

Denison, Tex.—Thirty-five years ago Ed. L. Dohoney rode out of Texas on the back of a paint pony, driving a herd of cattle toward Wichita, Kan. He was employed by the firm of Lee & Reynolds, then the great traders of Indian territory. His fortune was represented in his six shooter and his boots.

The other day, after a trip back to the old state he knew as a cowboy, Dohoney again departed from Texas, this time in a special car of which he is the owner.

Times have changed for Dohoney. Salted away in California banks he has a dozen millions or so, and planted in Mexico he has the monopoly of the oil production which is netting him millions more.

While in the state on his last trip he visited Columbia and the oil district being developed by Capt. Lee, son of his former employer, associated with W. C. Hoggard and others. It is on the banks of the Brazos river, from where Dohoney formerly drove the long horns to Wichita.

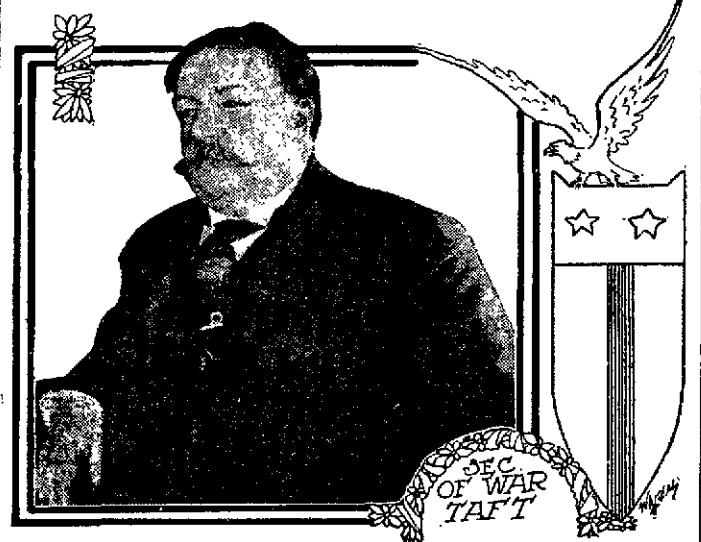

The 35 years that have intervened between the wild life of a cow puncher and the wild life of high finance were those of experience. A year before Dohoney came to be a millionaire he was riding around Los Angeles on the high seat of an oil wagon, guiding a team and measuring gasoline to customers.

Afterward he steered a drill into the oil sand and made the stake upon which he started. Then he turned the screws of a contract into the Santa Fe Railroad Company and made a fortune. At the same time he made things so interesting for President Ripley that the two became business associates.

Mr. Dohoney did not say whether he expected to invest in the Columbia oil field, but the association of his trip there caused a number of others to invest. He said he did not want his name to influence anyone to make an investment.

"They seem to have found some oil down there," he said. "What they

Asked concerning his rapid rise and career, Mr. Dohoney said:

"Any man's career is interesting if you get down to brass tacks. Thirty-five years ago I was a cow-puncher in Texas. That's about all there is to it."

From the saddle on the back of a paint pony to the upholstering of a private car represents what the career of Mr. Dohoney happens to be. The first thing he bought when he became rich was the car he rides in now. That was all for comparison.

Mr. Dohoney is president of an oil company in the southern republic that is selling 600 barrels of oil daily to the Mexican Central railroad. That means almost as many dollars every 24 hours.

CORN LIKE CENTURIES AGO.

Ear Similar to That of Ancients Grown by Freak of Nature.

Des Moines, Ia.—Nature forgot its centuries of education near Adel last fall, and by some strange freak produced corn as it was originally found in its wild state. The ear of corn is the most remarkable ever shown in the corn belt. At about the middle of one side of the ear a little sprig came out, extending about four inches long. At first glance it looks like a portion of the tassel bearing corn. But it is not a tassel. It is a head like that of any small grain, having little cups, in some of which perfect grains of corn have formed.

It is claimed this was the original form of corn by agronomists who have seen it and that centuries of cultivation has brought it to the present form.

NEARING THE AGE LIMIT.

NAVAL OFFICERS WHO WILL RETIRE THIS YEAR.

"Fighting Bob" Evans Among Those to Leave Uncle Sam's Service Before 1909—Twenty-Four in All to Go.

Washington.—There will be a record-breaking number of retirements of well-known naval officers this year. "Fighting Bob" Evans, Commander-in-chief of the fleet now on the way to the Pacific, will be 62 years old on August 18 and will go on the retired list that day. In all 24 distinguished commissioned officers will be cut down by the official Father Time in 1908, and their withdrawal from active service will promote many officers by virtue of the seniority rule.

Among those who are to be retired is Capt. John Elliott Pillsbury, who has just assumed charge of the bureau of navigation as a result of Rear Admiral Brownson resigning the billet because he refused to agree with President Roosevelt and Surgeon General Rixey that a doctor is the proper person to command a hospital ship. Capt. Pillsbury, who as chief of the bureau of navigation has the rank of rear admiral, is to leave the service December 15 under the 62-year limit regulation.

Another officer who will suffer official decapitation because of the rule is William Sheffield Cowes, brother-in-law of President Roosevelt. Capt. Cowes is to go out August 1. Henry Buckingham Mansfield, who made the famous trip in the schooner yacht America in search of confederate pirates in 1863 and who commanded a launch from the frigate Mohican in the expedition which "cut out" and turned the piratical steamer Forward in Tecupan river, Mexico, will be retired March 5.

William Hemsley Emory, who is to retire two days after Capt. Pillsbury, was commander of the Bear in the Greeley relief expedition in 1884.

Samuel Williams Very, whose time will be up April 23, is the only one of those slated for retirement this year who was born in a foreign country. He was born in England April 23, 1846.

Capt. George Augustus Bicknell, who is to retire May 15, has seen more service on the firing line than the majority of the others who are to retire with him.

John Mitchell Hawley, who is to retire July 28, received a vote of thanks from the Massachusetts legislature for "rare courage and ability" displayed during the Samoan hurricane in March, 1899. He also was commended to the navy department by Rear Admiral Kimberly for zeal and energy in getting the warship Nipic afloat after that vessel was beached in the hurricane.

Franklin J. Drake is to retire March 4. He commanded company B in the assault by land forces on the Korean forts at Seoul in 1871.

Richardson Clover, who made the trip around the world with the late Gen. Grant, is to retire July 11.

Other well-known officers who are to be retired from service within the year are: W. S. Moore, February 23; C. A. Adams, May 28; W. T. Burwell, July 19; A. B. Speyers, August 15; J. P. Merrell, September 7; C. M. Thomas, October 1; J. H. Dayton, October 25; A. R. Couden, October 30; J. St. C. Ogden, December 10, and C. T. Forse, December 23.

BUCHANAN HAD A ROMANCE.

Love Story of Former President Herebefore Unpublished.

Lancaster, Pa.—In a paper read before the Lancaster County Historical society, Mrs. James D. Landis brought to light a hitherto unpublished story of a love affair of President James Buchanan, which, it is said, led Pennsylvania's only president to lead the life of a bachelor until his death.

The incident which led to the breaking of Buchanan's engagement with his fiancée occurred in this city. The future president, a young lawyer at the time, was associated with William Jenkins of this city in a case being argued before the supreme court in Philadelphia, and Mr. Buchanan had gone to Philadelphia in the interest of the case. On his return he stopped at the home of Mr. Jenkins to acquaint him with the details of the argument.

Miss Grace P. Hubley, as the story runs, a sister-in-law of Jenkins, hearing Mr. Buchanan speaking, came downstairs to greet him. The young lawyer then took his departure. Miss Hubley later wrote a note to Miss Ann Coleman, Mr. Buchanan's fiancée, telling her jokingly that she had a call from him, and that they had had a pleasant afternoon together.

This so angered Miss Coleman, it is said, that, without waiting for an explanation from Mr. Buchanan, she broke the engagement. A short time later Miss Coleman made a hurried trip to Philadelphia, where she died very suddenly, reports at the time saying that her death was due to suicide, caused by remorse. Miss Coleman's body was brought to Lancaster and it lies in St. James' churchyard.

Gives Heirs $2,000 in a Bomb.

Paris.—An anarchist laborer named Hudaye recently died at La Fleche in the department of the Sarthe, after having promised his heirs a surprise, which proved to be a bomb. This was entrusted to an expert who, after immersing it in water, opened it with every precaution and found $2,000, which goes to Hudaye's brother.

The inventor has proved all his ideas, he says, on a model airship five feet long. He has obtained patents in the United States, Canada, Great Britain, France, and Italy, so far, and he has made requisitions for patents in other lands.

Returned Traveler Tells How to Prepare Cuban Delicacy.

Charles J. Post, the illustrator, who has just returned from Cuba, is making all his friends happy by telling them how to prepare a new and most delectable supper dish, says the New York Times. This is the "Huevos Malagueña," which has long been one of the favorite viands served at the best Havana restaurants.

While it is possible to prepare this dish in the chafing dish, the Cuban method of cooking it is to make it directly over the fire in a porcelain lined stew pan. Into this the cook pours some good olive oil—not a tea-spoonful or two, or enough to just grease the bottom of the pan, but a goodly quantity, that the oil may bubble conspicuously when sufficiently heated. When this result has been attained, drop some eggs gently into the hot oil; follow quickly with shrimp, French peas and capers, and let the mixture remain over the fire just long enough to enable the eggs to poach to the extent desired. Then, season to taste with salt, white pepper, and paprika.

As this combination of egg, fish and vegetable should appear at the table in the same utensil in which it is cooked, it may be made still more attractive by being prepared in individual dishes—one or two eggs and a corresponding quantity of shrimp, peas and capers being apportioned to each dish. But however it may be made, one thing at least is certain. It may be depended upon to play the role of a captivating surprise at whatever hour of the day or evening you may invite your guests to partake of it.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

When mixing mustard add a drop or two of salad oil to it. It will greatly improve the flavor.

A tablespoonful of borax is an agreeable addition to the dishwasher and helps to keep the hands soft, instead of irritating them, as soda does.

To keep lemons as well as to improve their flavor, put them into more than enough water to cover them and change it every day or two.

A pan of borax and sugar kept under the sink will discourage roaches.

Plenty of hot water and washing soda put down the sink pipes will keep them clear and lessen the plumber's bill.

If tea or coffee be spilled on a woolen material it may be removed by applying glycerin to the spot, afterward washing out the glycerin with water.

Discolored ivory knife handles should be cleaned with lemon juice and salt. Cut a lemon in half, dip it in salt and with it rub the ivory. Wash off immediately with warm water and wipe dry.

Fish Timbale.

Four one-half of a cupful of cream into a saucepan with two tablespoonfuls of fine stale bread crumbs; add salt, cayenne, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, one teaspoonful of minced parsley and a few drops of onion juice; when hot, add one cupful of cold boiled or canned salmon, or any dry white fish, mashed very fine; when boiling, pour over it the well beaten yolks of three eggs, mixing well; fold the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs; fill well greased timbale cups two-thirds full; set the cups in a pan of hot water and bake until firm. Serve with Hollandaise sauce made as follows:

Heat four tablespoonfuls of vinegar to the boiling point and pour on two well beaten eggs, or four yolks, stirring well; return this mixture to the fire and stir constantly until it thickens, then remove from the fire immediately when it is the consistency of soft custard; add two tablespoonfuls of butter, salt and cayenne to taste.

New Boiling.

Here is a new cookery kink. It is "boiling" eggs without water. This novelty is exploited at one of Chicago's leading hotels, and as the feat is accomplished directly before the eyes of the guest, the new way of cooking generally attracts attention and comment. The waiter places a box-like apparatus before the guest and turns on a little electricity from the bracket on the wall and places the desired number of eggs in the heater. In about a minute and a half, or half the time consumed by the hot water process, the eggs are cooked to a turn. The process is an idea originated by Prof. Radtke of Armour Institute.

Cleaning Bottles.

Most medicine bottles can be cleaned by washing thoroughly in hot soap suds and rinsing in cold water; but there may be some that will require different treatment.

Some druggists clean narrow-necked bottles by putting in bits of blotting paper torn into a pulp, shaking well, emptying, then rinsing. This will make them very clean.

Frequently bottles will be musty when standing any length of time, and in this case if they are filled with cold water and allowed to stand an hour or two the musty smell will disappear.

Delicious Potatoes.

Select potatoes of medium and uniform size. Wash very clean with a brush and drop into a kettle of boiling water to which has been added a little salt and a pinch of soda. Boil about five minutes until hot to the center, take out of water and put in a hot oven, baking until slightly brown. You will say you never knew what potatoes were before, if you time them right.

NEARING THE AGE LIMIT.

NAVAL OFFICERS WHO WILL RETIRE THIS YEAR.

"Fighting Bob" Evans Among Those to Leave Uncle Sam's Service Before 1909—Twenty-Four in All to Go.

Washington.—There will be a record-breaking number of retirements of well-known naval officers this year. "Fighting Bob" Evans, Commander-in-chief of the fleet now on the way to the Pacific, will be 62 years old on August 18 and will go on the retired list that day. In all 24 distinguished commissioned officers will be cut down by the official Father Time in 1908, and their withdrawal from active service will promote many officers by virtue of the seniority rule.

Among those who are to be retired is Capt. John Elliott Pillsbury, who has just assumed charge of the bureau of navigation as a result of Rear Admiral Brownson resigning the billet because he refused to agree with President Roosevelt and Surgeon General Rixey that a doctor is the proper person to command a hospital ship. Capt. Pillsbury, who as chief of the bureau of navigation has the rank of rear admiral, is to leave the service December 15 under the 62-year limit regulation.

Another officer who will suffer official decapitation because of the rule is William Sheffield Cowes, brother-in-law of President Roosevelt. Capt. Cowes is to go out August 1. Henry Buckingham Mansfield, who made the famous trip in the schooner yacht America in search of confederate pirates in 1863 and who commanded a launch from the frigate Mohican in the expedition which "cut out" and turned the piratical steamer Forward in Tecupan river, Mexico, will be retired March 6.

William Hemsley Emory, who is to retire two days after Capt. Pillsbury, was commander of the Bear in the Greely relief expedition in 1884. Samuel Williams Very, whose time will be up April 23, is the only one of those slated for retirement this year who was born in a foreign country. He was born in England April 23, 1846.

Capt. George Augustus Bicknell, who is to retire May 15, has seen more service on the firing line than the majority of the others who are to retire with him.

John Mitchell Hawley, who is to retire July 28, received a vote of thanks from the Massachusetts legislature for "rare courage and ability" displayed during the Samoan hurricanes in March, 1899. He also was commended to the navy department by Rear Admiral Kimberly for zeal and energy in getting the warship Nipsic aloft after that vessel was beached in the hurricane.

Franklin J. Drake is to retire March 4. He commanded company B in the assault by land forces on the Korean forts at Seoul in 1871.

Richardson Clover, who made the trip around the world with the late Gen. Grant, is to retire July 11.

Other well-known officers who are to be retired from service within the year are: W. S. Moore, February 23; C. A. Adams, May 28; W. T. Burwell, July 19; A. B. Speyers, August 15; J. P. Merrell, September 7; C. M. Thomas, October 1; J. H. Dayton, October 25; A. R. Couden, October 30; J. St. C. Ogden, December 10, and C. T. Forse, December 29.

Log Wrecks Miner's Home.

Spokane, Wash.—John Bernard, master mechanic of the Success mine, and his family escaped death by a narrow margin the other day when a log 75 feet long and 18 inches thick plowed through the family home near Wallace, Idaho, and after doing so buried ten feet of its length in the ground beyond.

Bernard's house is at the base of a mountain. The log got away, presumably, from cutters, and shot down the mountain side nearly half a mile. It struck the rear end of the house and tore a hole from end to end.

The family, consisting of Bernard, his wife, and three children, were in the kitchen, and, though the log passed between them, all escaped with a few minor bruises.

BUCHANAN HAD A ROMANCE.

Love Story of Former President Herebefore Unpublished.

Lancaster, Pa.—In a paper read before the Lancaster County Historical society, Mrs. James D. Landis brought to light a hitherto unpublished story of a love affair of President James Buchanan, which, it is said, led Pennsylvania's only president to lead the life of a bachelor until his death.

The incident which led to the breaking of Buchanan's engagement, with his fiancée occurred in this city. The future president, a young lawyer at the time, was associated with William Jenkins of this city in a case being argued before the supreme court in Philadelphia, and Mr. Buchanan had gone to Philadelphia in the interest of the case. On his return he stopped at the home of Mr. Jenkins to acquaint him with the details of the argument.

Miss Grace P. Hubley, so the story runs, a sister-in-law of Jenkins, hearing Mr. Buchanan speaking, came downstairs to greet him. The young lawyer then took his departure. Miss Hubley later wrote a note to Miss Ann Coleman, Mr. Buchanan's fiancée, telling her jokingly that she had a call from him, and that they had had a pleasant afternoon together.

This so angered Miss Coleman, it is said, that, without waiting for an explanation from Mr. Buchanan, she broke the engagement. A short time later Miss Coleman made a hurried trip to Philadelphia, where she died very suddenly, reports at the time saying that her death was due to suicide, caused by remorse. Miss Coleman's body was brought to Lancaster and it lies in St. James' churchyard.

Gives Heirs $2,000 in a Bomb.

Paris.—An anarchist laborer named Hudaye recently died at La Fliche in the department of the Sarthe, after having promised his heirs a surprise, which proved to be a bomb. This was entrusted to an expert who, after immersing it in water, opened it with every precaution and found $2,000, which goes to Hudaye's brother.

COWBOY TO RICHES

ED. L. DOHENEY OF TEXAS HAS MADE RAPID ADVANCE.

Plainsman Accumulates Millions by Ventures in Oil in State of California and in the Republic of Mexico.

Denison, Tex.—Thirty-five years ago Ed. L. Dohoney rode out of Texas on the back of a paint pony, driving a herd of cattle toward Wichita, Kan. He was employed by the firm of Lee & Reynolds, then the great traders of Indian territory. His fortune was represented in his six shooter and his boots.

The other day, after a trip back to the old state he knew as a cowboy, Dohoney again departed from Texas, this time in a special car of which he is the owner.

Times have changed for Dohoney. Salted away in California banks he has a dozen millions or so, and planted in Mexico he has the monopoly of the oil production which is netting him millions more.

While in the state on his last trip he visited Columbia and the oil district being developed by Capt. Lee, son of his former employer, associated with W. C. Hoggard and others. It is on the banks of the Brazos river, from where Dohoney formerly drove the long horns to Wichita.

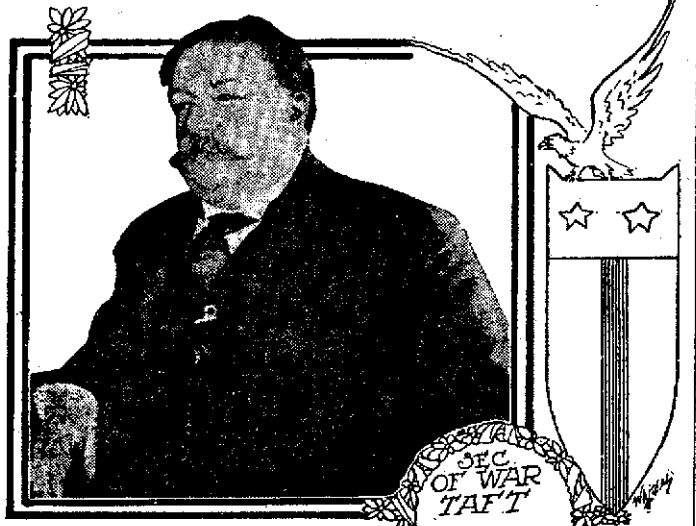

The 35 years that have intervened between the wild life of a cow puncher and the wild life of high finance were those of experience. A year before Dohoney came to be a millionaire he was riding around Los Angeles on the high seat of an oil wagon, guiding a team and measuring gasoline to customers.

Afterward he steered a drill into the oil sand and made the stake upon which he started. Then he turned the screws of a contract into the Santa Fe Railroad Company and made a fortune. At the same time he made things so interesting for President Ripley that the two became business associates.

Mr. Dohoney did not say whether he expected to invest in the Columbia oil field, but the association of his trip there caused a number of others to invest. He said he did not want his name to influence anyone to make an investment.

"They seem to have found some oil down there," he said. "What they are going to find remains to be seen. As for my going in, I cannot say. It is possible, but at present I do not know."

Asked concerning his rapid rise and career, Mr. Dohoney said:

"Any man's career is interesting if you get down to brass tacks. Thirty-five years ago I was a cow-puncher in Texas. That's about all there is to it."

From the saddle on the back of a paint pony to the upholstering of a private car represents what the career of Mr. Dohoney happens to be. The first thing he bought when he became rich was the car he rides in now. That was all for comparison.

Mr. Dohoney is president of an oil company in the southern republic that is selling 600 barrels of oil daily to the Mexican Central railroad. That means almost as many dollars every 24 hours.

CORN LIKE CENTURIES AGO.

Ear Similar to That of Ancients Grown by Freak of Nature.

Des Moines, Ia.—Nature forgot its centuries of education near Adel last fall, and by some strange freak produced corn as it was originally found in its wild state. The ear of corn is the most remarkable ever shown in the corn belt. At about the middle of one side of the ear a little sprig came out, extending about four inches long.

At first glance it looks like a portion of the tassel bearing corn. But it is not a tassel. It is a head like that of any small grain, having little cups, in some of which perfect grains of corn have formed.

It is claimed this was the original form of corn by agronomists who have seen it and that centuries of cultivation has brought it to the present form.
